PENN MUTUAL VARIABLE ANNUITY ACCOUNT III

Monthly Fund Performance - For Period Ending 10/31/2021

The numbers in the table below assume a $10,000 hypothetical investment without any optional riders or contingent deferred sales charges included for contract form BVA-00. Had these been included, performance values would be lower. Performance is however net of fund expenses, product charges and the $40 annual administration charge.

The performance data quoted represents past performance and is not predictive of future results. The investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that units, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. You can obtain current month end performance at www.pennmutual.com in the Investment Options & Performance tab.

These returns assume that the investment portfolios were available under the contract since their respective inception dates. The inception date represents the date on which the underlying investment option commenced investment operations.

Monthly Fund Performance - For Period Ending 10/31/2021

Assuming Contract Surrendered

Below are the average annual total returns on a hypothetical investment of $1,000 assuming the investor makes no additional deposits during the first contract year and surrenders the policy. With the exception of any available optional riders, the figures are net of all possible charges and fees, including the maximum contingent deferred sales charge of 8% (Contract Year = %: 1=8%, 2=8%, 3=8%, 4=8%, 5=7%, 6=6%, 7=5%, 8=3%, 9=3%), asset charges, product fees, and the $40 annual administration charge. Had any available optional riders been included, performance values would be lower.

Investments in the small capitalization sector of the financial markets may be subject to increased volatility or risk due to the size, experience, and information available on any such companies. International investing involves certain risks, including political and economic uncertainties, in addition to currency price fluctuations not inherent in domestic investing. REITs involve risks such as refinancing, economic impact on industry, changes in property values, dependency on management skills, and risks similar to small company investing. Investing in higher yielding, lower-rated corporate bonds has a greater risk of price fluctuations and loss of principal and income than U.S. Government Securities. Investment in a money market is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency, and although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in these funds. Fund shares are not insured and their value and yield will vary with market conditions. The S&P 500 Index is an unmanaged index of common stock performance, considered to be representative of the stock market in general. Indexes do not have sales charges and it is not possible to invest directly in an index.
