VARIABLE ANNUITY PAYMENTS

First Variable Annuity Payment

When a variable annuity is effected, we will first deduct applicable premium taxes, if any, from the Contract Value. The dollar amount of the first monthly annuity payment will be determined by applying the net Contract Value to the annuity table set forth in the Contract for the annuity option chosen. The annuity tables show the amount of the first monthly income payment under each annuity option for each $1,000 of value applied, based on the Annuitant's age at the Annuity Date. The annuity tables are based on the Annuity 2000 Basic Table with interest rates at 3% or 5%.

Subsequent Variable Annuity Payments

The dollar amount of subsequent variable annuity payments will vary in accordance with the investment experience of the Subaccount(s) of the Separate Account applicable to the annuity. Each subsequent variable annuity payment will equal the number of annuity units credited, multiplied by the value of the annuity unit for the Valuation Period. Penn Mutual guarantees that the amount of each subsequent annuity payment will not be affected by variations in expense or mortality experience.

Annuity Units

For each Subaccount selected, the number of annuity units is the amount of the first annuity payment allocated to the Subaccount divided by the value of an annuity unit for the Subaccount on the Annuity Date. The number of your annuity units will not change as a result of investment experience.

Value of Annuity Units

The value of an annuity unit for each Subaccount was arbitrarily set at $10 when the Subaccount was established. The value may increase or decrease from one Valuation Period to the next. For a Valuation Period, the value of an annuity unit for a Subaccount is the value of an annuity unit for the Subaccount for the last prior Valuation Period multiplied by the net investment factor for the Subaccount for the Valuation Period. The result is then multiplied by a factor to neutralize an assumed interest rate of 3% or 5%, as applicable, built into the annuity tables.

Net Investment Factor

For any Subaccount, the net investment factor for a Valuation Period is determined by dividing (a) by (b) and subtracting (c):

Where (a) is:

The net asset value per share of the mutual fund held in the Subaccount, as of the end of the Valuation Period.

plus

The per share amount of any dividend or capital gain distributions by the mutual fund if the "ex-dividend" date occurs in the Valuation Period.

plus or minus

A per share charge or credit, as we may determine as of the end of the Valuation Period, for provision for taxes (if applicable).

Where (b) is:

The net asset value per share of the mutual fund held in the Subaccount as of the end of the last prior Valuation Period.

plus or minus

The per share charge or credit for provision for taxes as of the end of the last prior Valuation Period (if applicable).

Where (c) is:

The sum of the mortality and expense risk charge and the asset based contract administration charge. On an annual basis, the sum of such charges equals 1.45% of the daily net asset value of the Subaccount.

Assumed Interest Rate

Assumed interest rates of 3% or 5% are included in the annuity tables in the Contract. A higher assumption would mean a higher first annuity payment but more slowly rising or more rapidly falling subsequent payments. A lower assumption would have the opposite effect. If the actual net investment rate on an annual basis is equal to the assumed interest rate you have selected, annuity payments will be level.

Valuation Period

Valuation Period is the period from one valuation of underlying fund assets to the next. Valuation is performed each day the New York Stock Exchange (“NYSE”) is open for trading.

Transaction Valuation

Your assets in the Separate Account are held as Accumulation Units of the Subaccounts that you select. We value Accumulation Units as of the close of regular trading on the NYSE (generally, 4:00 p.m. ET). When you invest in, withdraw from or transfer money to a Subaccount, you receive the Accumulation Unit value next computed after we receive and accept your purchase payment or your withdrawal or transfer request at our Administrative Office. Allocation, withdrawal and transfer instructions received at our Administrative Office after the close of regular trading on the NYSE will be valued based on the Accumulation Unit value computed as of the close of regular trading on the next NYSE business day. In order to receive a day’s closing price, instructions sent by facsimile transmission must be received by our fax server prior to the close of regular trading on that day. Telephone instructions must be received in full, containing all required information and confirmed back to the caller prior to the close of regular trading in order to receive that day’s closing price.
